

Data Privacy Statement for Food bank Volunteers

Personal data

When you become a volunteer at the food bank, the food bank will keep some data about you. This is “personal data”, because it is identifiable information about you as a individual person.

Does the food bank have a right to your data?

Under Data Protection legislation (UK GDPR), the food bank needs to have a lawful basis for keeping and using your data. The lawful basis used by the food bank is our legitimate interest or our legal obligation, as we require this information in order to meet our duty of care to you as a volunteer. Where appropriate we also rely on your explicit consent to hold your personal data, for example, where you agree to us using your story or image in our promotional literature.

What personal data do we hold?

The food bank will have gathered personal information about you on:

- Your application form
- Your interview form
- Your volunteer record
- Any policy you have signed e.g. Confidentiality Agreement or Photo Permission form
- Any records relating to problem solving or accident reporting, if relevant.

The personal information may be held on paper and in an electronic format.

The information held will be:

- Your name and contact details
- Your address
- Note on health issues (if relevant)
- Notes on unspent charges or convictions (if relevant)
- The name and contact details of your emergency contacts
- Previous experience and qualifications
- Date of birth / age
- Driving information (if relevant)
- Disclosure and Barring Service record number and date of issue (if applicable)

This is the only data the food bank will usually hold about you. We do not get data about you in any other way.

How is your personal data kept safe?

Your data is stored on the Assemble Volunteer Management System and Peakon, Engagement software provided by the Trussell Trust. Assemble and Peakon are specialist cloud hosted software applications, with ISO 2001 security compliance standards. The systems have been subject to appropriate due diligence and have been deemed to have appropriate technical and organisational measures in place to protect personal data. As per their Data Sharing Agreement, both the Trussell Trust and the food bank are separate Data Controllers, with Assemble and Peakon acting as Data Processors.

Assemble and Peakon support the effective, consistent management and administration of volunteers.

Where we store hard copies of your personal information, records are kept in locked storage at our premises with restricted access to named key holders. We have processes in place to ensure that only those people who need access to your personal information can do so.

What is your data used for?

Your data is only used for purposes directly relating to your volunteering, particularly:

1. To work out the best volunteer opportunities for you
2. To contact you about your volunteering
3. To support your day to day management and development
4. To make sure you get the right medical care, if you are taken ill when volunteering
5. To contact the right person, if you have an accident or are taken ill when volunteering
6. To ensure policies and guidance are properly managed
7. To support proactive volunteer recognition.

Who can see your data?

The food bank: The food bank trustees / Project Manager / volunteer supervisor

The Trussell Trust: A Data Sharing Agreement exists between the food bank and the Trussell Trust to provide you and the food bank with access to the Peakon and Assemble systems. The Trussell Trust is only able to access personal data in order to provide systems support and guidance to volunteer managers and volunteers and to ensure the systems are kept up to date and properly maintained. Where you agree, the Trussell Trust will also keep you up to date on opportunities across the Trussell Trust and the Foodbank Network as well as giving you chance to share your feedback about your experience of volunteering. For more information about how the Trussell Trust looks after your data visit: <https://trusselltrust.org/privacy/>

You: you can log into Assemble, see what personal data is held about you and update your personal information directly. You can also see the names of other volunteers in your team and send them a message through the system.

How long will your data be kept?

Your application form will be kept on the Assemble system. If we are unable to find a volunteer position for you, your application form will be kept for one year, unless you ask us to delete it sooner.

If you become a volunteer, then your data is kept for as long as you are a volunteer at the food bank.

If you stop being a volunteer, we will keep your data for a further year. This is so that we can contact you, if we need to ask you any questions about your time as a volunteer or if you require a reference for a new role. After a year your records will be destroyed, unless there is a reason why we still need to be in touch with you about your time as a volunteer.

Who can you speak to if you have questions?

If you have questions about your data, and what we do with it, you should contact the Data Controller, Patrick Evans, who is also the Operations Manager, by email: info@chesterfield.foodbank.org.uk or by phone: 07529 224 996 or in writing to the Data Controller, Unit 3, Carrwood Road Ind.
